Chances slim attempt will succeed

Ag exemption to come under fire again

The latest in a series of maneuvers to remove the agricultural exemption to the Palm Beach County's Environmental Control Act was given little chance for success Wednesday.

County Environmental Control Officer Dennis P. Koehler was due to take a recommendation before the county's Environmental Management Committee at 2 p.m. in West Palm Beach, just before the Herald's press time.

The recommendation would remove the controversial agricultural exemption and give Koehler the authority to enforce county and state laws on land clearing, burning and odors but would limit him to standards the same or less stringent than those set by the state.

County Commissioner E.W. "Bud" Weaver, who has also supported the exemption, said, "I'm chairman of that committee so you know what the recommendation will be."

The other two commissioners who make up the committee are Commissioners Robert Culpepper and Robert Johnson. Following another effort by Koehler last month, Johnson said he should, "stick to administrative matters and leave policy decisions to the commission."

Koehler was to appear before the committee following a unanimous decision by the county Environmental Control Hearing Board to amend the act. The amended act would go before the committee, be passed on to the full commission and finally to the county legislative delegation.

George Wedgworth, who has been intimately involved with Koehler's efforts to lift the exemption by opposing him as President of the Florida Sugar Cane League, said Wednesday morning he hadn't been informed of the control hearing board meeting and only knew about Wednesday's meeting from a newspaper story.

"Like the commercial says," Wedgworth said, "Oh, thank heaven for the newspapers. Sometimes that's the only way I find out about these things."

Wedgworth had had a similar experience in October, when Koehler wrote him a letter dated Oct. 17, requesting a meeting to discuss the lifting of the exemption.

The five-page letter had been released to the press and discussed in a county commission meeting before Wedgworth had received it.

The Florida Sugar Cane League's stand on this has been, and Wedgworth reaffirmed it Wednesday, that he doesn't care who regulates the industry as long as one agency does it for the entire industry, spread over a four-county area.

"I met with Mr. Koehler after he sent the letter," Wedgworth said, "when he came out to the Glades Office Building to talk to Bud Weaver."

"I thought we'd reached an agreement then," he said, "and apparently he thought so too," but went on to say the two must have had different ideas about what the agreement was.

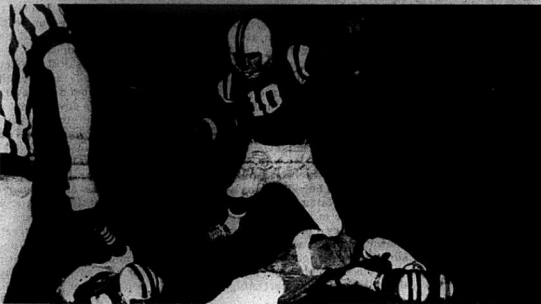

Wedgworth wrote Koehler a letter on Nov. 1 once again setting forth the industry's stand that, "It is contrary to our basic goals of keeping the regulatory control of the industry in one environmental control agency."

"Conceivably," he said, "the industry could have four counties regulating the industry on a fragmented basis."

He went on to say, "The proposed change does away with the agriculture exemption and merely strengthens the limitation on standards by requiring Palm Beach County to only enforce rules and regulations established by Florida Department of Pollution Control. We maintain you have the authority without new legislation."

"Koehler's argument for deleting the exemption is that the federal Environmental Control Agency has refused to fund the local program as long as the exemption remains in effect."

You've got to be...

...a football hero was much in demand over the weekend as all three local highschools won their contests and the Colts won the Pee Wee championship. At top a mighty leap hurls No. 10 of the Colts over his would be tackler. The Colts beat the undefeated Bears 7-0 to win the crown. And at the right No. 35 for Glades Day School evades his would be tacklers as the Gators won another 15-7. And last, but not least, a fleeing Glades Day School back turns on the speed enroute to his teams 21-0 homecoming victory over Martin County. ### Sheriff's takeover is knocked South Bay Police Chief/City Manager August Dreeson said Tuesday night he is against allowing Palm Beach County Sheriff William Heidtman's plan to take over small police department duties but is in favor of centralized communications and records.

Heidtman proposed earlier this week the Sheriff's Office take over the police duties of all

South Bay hires firm to seek federal funds

The City of South Bay will be receiving help in getting business of finding federal money for municipalities.

"I've read the contract and checked out their references,"

The city commission agreed Tuesday night to hire Group Seven, a management consultant firm with headquarters in Atlanta and Hallandale.

Blane Carnel, representing the company, said Group Seven would make a study of the city in "about a month" to determine what the city's needs are and what grants the city would be able to get to accomplish the work.

Carnel said the city would contract to pay a retainer fee of $225 per month and the cooperation would also be paid 3 per cent of the amount of each grant or loan it gets for the city plus 1 per cent of each total project cost.

Group Seven, Carnel said, was originally a firm specializing in the aerospace industry and has participated in projects such as the space shuttle, the C-8A, the F-111 swing-wing jet fighter and others.

Since the industry began declining, he said, the corporation has begun the business of finding federal money for municipalities.

What conscience?

We don't like to make it a habit to throw bouquets at someone for doing what they should have done in the first place, but there are exceptions.

Tuesday night was one of the few times we can recall when the members of a governmental body opted not to give itself a pay raise that was already budgeted. The board was the South Bay City Commission and the raise would have been for $25 per month.

Of course it only makes good sense not to vote yourself a raise when you're facing major problems with sewers, water, streets and garbage collection, along with the other usual problems faced by any city today.

But good sense doesn't often prevail when a person starts taking actions designed to feather his own nest.

That's why we so appreciated the comments by Commissioner O'Neal Thursday when he said it would be too much like Congress voting itself a raise in the middle of rampant inflation wrapped around a recession with the possibility of a depression in the near future.

"With all the problems we face," Walker said, "I couldn't in good conscience vote for a raise in pay."

Makes you wonder what kind of collective conscience Congress has don't it.

Such good friends

Sometimes it helps to have friends in the right places.

When Palm Beach County Environmental Control Officer Dennis P. Koehler went before the county's Environmental Management Committee Wednesday with a plea to drop the agricultural exemption from the county's Environmental Control Act, the cards were stacked against him.

Chairman of the committee is County Commissioner E.W. "Bud" Weaver of Lake Harbor, who has repeatedly reaffirmed his support of the exemption. One of the two remaining members of the committee is Commissioner Robert Johnson, who has already told Koehler to stick to administration and leave policy making to the county commission.

That was on the occasion Koehler contacted Florida Sugar Cane League President George Wedgworth in an attempt to remove the exemption.

"We're as much for clean air and water as anyone but something's priority has to be given to something else...such as food production, particularly at a time when the world conference on food shortage in Rome has been trying to come up with some way of feeding the world's starving.

No homemaker has to be reminded of spiraling costs of food. She sees it every time she goes to the supermarket and notice the price of sugar has risen another five cents a pound. Just as we believe farmers should be able to develop land in the southwest portion of the county (which has been designated agricultural since 1948) so we believe farmers should be given some leeway.

This is especially true in the light of county environmentalists' track record and the fact the sugar industry isn't trying to get out from under any kind of regulation.

Time and again the county pollution fighters have made unreasonable demands in the name of pure air and water. Ask any city official in the county.

Koehler has said in the past he wouldn't do anything to jeopardize the industry and he could be speaking in good faith.

But it remains a well-known tenet of political science that the primary function of any governmental agency, once formed, is its own perpetuation and expansion.

Some people call it empire building.

In Shropshire England, it is said that a piece of hawthorn cut on Holy Thursday will protect both house and person from being struck by lightning.

This was front page news throughout the country.

I am sure that we have heard of these, or some similar incidents. What can we do to improve the social, moral and cultural status of our youth, what is it that is causing the moral fiber of our young people to decay at the core. There are quite a few contributing factors.

In America there are more barmaids than co-eds; more criminals than college students; more barkeepers than preachers; and more saloons than churches. Count to ten and a major crime is committed.

America spends three times as much on crime as on religion. A famous man once said, "America has long been the land of the free and the home of the brave, but it is fastly becoming the land of the spine and the home of the knave." (A dishonest or deceitful person).

Let's face it! Good old Christian America is on the skids and going to the dogs, unless we turn the trend.

I am not trying to paint a picture blacker than it is. I am simply saying that we need a personal encounter with ourselves we need "Operation PAM".

Candlelighters help

Dear Sir:

Candlelighters, parents of children afflicted by cancer, would like to express its appreciation for the role played by Representative Paul Rogers, your Congressman, in continuing the government's research war on cancer.

Rep. Rogers is chairman of the House Public Health and Environment Subcommittee, which helped draft recently enacted legislation extending the National Cancer Act of 1971. That act began an expanded federal cancer research effort.

The new legislation will be important in seeking ways to provide better diagnosis and treatment and, hopefully, eventual cures for cancer.

The legislation authorizes $2.8 million for National Cancer Institute research for the next three years.

It removes the limit of 15 on the number of comprehensive cancer centers throughout the nation.

It requires the NCI Director to develop nutritional programs to disseminate new research knowledge to doctors and public.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

20 profits to change schools, I don't see how it would make that much difference in desegregating or integrating schools in general, or in particular for that matter.

If they're bound and determined to bring teachers to make the tremendous sacrifice of teaching some kid whose skin is of a slightly different shade, seems to me I would make more sense to pay 200 teachers $1,000 each, or 2,000 teachers $100 each.

Course the Department of Health, Education and Welfare liked to throw big chunks of money around as opposed to a lot of smaller chunks in a lot of directions.

Maybe they figure these professors are really idealistic, about where they may be teaching though, or idealistic about who they don't want to teach, and they won't come cheap.

Something to think about; which would it cost more to buy an idealist or a bigot, or would they both cost the same. Heck, maybe they are the same thing.

I never could quite bring myself to trust someone so strung out and hung up on a big hair IDEAL!!! (notice the built-in capital letters and exclamation marks) that they've completely forgotten how to laugh about things.

The same thing applies whether the ideal is positive or negative.

Just a little side thought: Wonder what Bishop Fulton Sheen

Such is the cross one must bear for being a Gator fan.

I called Ben Clarke and told him the column was his for a week. If I can't take it I shouldn't be in the business of dishing it out. I thought Ben did a real fine job on the column.

All I can say is—"Wait Till Next Year!!" Oh yes, and I still love my Gators even if they can't whip anybody outside of Gainesville. Lets see now, is it possible to have 11 home games in one season?

How do you figure the SEC, anyway? Florida flips Auburn apart, then loses to Georgia which turns right around and loses to Auburn. Ma jong anyone?

It might seem a bit incongruous to go from Gator football to international wheat deals—but good grief, as Charlie Brown would say—here we are selling wheat at a bargain price to people who wouldn't give us any oil not too awfully long ago.

I'm talking, of course, about the 300,000 tons of wheat we are now going to sell to Egypt. No where do we see a signed agreement guaranteeing us a certain amount of oil at bargain prices over the next year or two.

Okay, if we can produce it, let's feed the starving countries of the world. But if they can afford to pay, let's get something besides a few measly dollars. Let's start bargaining for natural resources.

Natural resources are going to go up in value. So is food. If you don't believe it—remember when you could buy a five pound bag of sugar for 28 cents?

America is being played for a sucker all over the world and right within its own boundaries as well. The United Nations is perhaps the biggest joke in the world.

Now they are listening to know criminals who are responsible for the senseless slaughter of hundreds of people. And who foots the bill for a large percentage of the United Nations' entire operating budget? you guessed it you clever devils you—the good old U.S. of A.

We give away money, food, goods all over the world and nobody likes us. So why keep on trying to be friends? Let's just be businessmen. Let's start driving harder bargains with the rest of the world. They can't hate us any more than they already do. And I would much rather have somebody else oil than their friendship.

Jumping back to Belle Glade...

Some Main Street merchants have come up with a troublesome fact. If State Rd. 80 goes right through the smack center of town its going to cut by more than half the number of available parking spaces.

They feel it may also cut by more than half the number of people who now use their store because people won't want to put up with the increased traffic. A traffic study Belle Glade got for $36,000 of our taxes told us to route the trucks around the city instead of sending them right up the middle.

Of course, I told the city this over a year ago and didn't charge them a dime. If I knew such elementary advice was so priceless, I might have charged the city a dollar or two for it.

But I digress. If the federal government tells us we should route trucks around the town, why should the state government come right in behind the survey and build a four-lane road right through our midsection.

There is also the cost of utility relocation to be reconsidered. I am sure there aren't nearly as many utilities to relocate along State Rd. 715 as there are along State Rd. 80 and Main Street. Yes, we need the road and we need it now. But let's do it right the first time so we don't pay too dear a price after it is finished.

Many people believe that horseshoes bring good luck, based on an old idea that iron routed demons.

said when he realized eight of the Ten Commandments started with, "Thou shalt not!"

Hilokee! Hilokee! Hilokee!

Let's hear it for the newest sport in the state...and maybe the newest in the world.

The state's first Grand Prix Canoe Race will get underway Saturday when some 300 canoe racers will be springing across the beach to get a running start at Silver Springs.

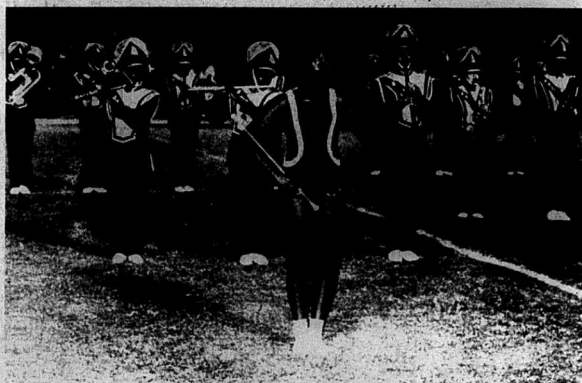

Competing in the race a half mile down the Silver River and a half mile back against a six knot current will be Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Mixed Couples, Fathers and Sons, Fathers and Daughters and an open class race.

I was just wondering if, instead of yelling, "Drivers, man your cars," they'll yell, "Paddlers, man your canoes."

One thing about it, nobody's going to be doing it for the money. The prizes for the mile-long race will be canoe paddles, "emblazoned with a special Grand Prix logo."

Maybe I got no class but I can't figure why someone would want to work up a sweat just to paddle just to get another paddle...and that's only if he wins.

Students and faculty members at Lake Shore Junior High have been involved in a number of activities this year with the latest being the recent Halloween festivities on Oct. 30.

The big event of the assembly was the Witch's Day Costume contest, won by Cathy Pittman, decked out as a staggering drunk smoking pipe from a half-pint bottle hidden in her coat.

The second place winner in the contest, sponsored by the Exceptional Child Education Center's gifted students, was Wilford Morgan as Ned the Wino and Billie Buchanan, adorned as Jeannie the Genie, placed third.

Other awards went to Toketa Lockett for outstanding salesman for the Roadrunner Rap, the school newspaper, which passed its second edition Tuesday.

Sharon Thornton and Janice Brown received recognition for awards won in an oral interpretation contest Tuesday. Lake Shore ECE Gifted students sponsored the speech contest between Lake Shore East Lake and Pahokee Jr.-Sr. High ECE students.

Also taking place in October was a Color Day contest, which was won by the eighth grade. Linda Anderson, captain of the cheerleaders, received the Color Day Award for the eighth grade.

Another highlight of the assembly on Oct. 30 was the unveiling of the nine-foot Roadrunner scheduled to serve as the school's mascot.

Faculty members, John George, Kathy Nicholson and Janice Brown, along with eighth graders, cut, painted and constructed the wooden mascot structure.

Following the presentation of awards, the cheerleaders, led by captains Bertha Wilson and Linda Anderson, and the band led the student body in a pep rally to boost the Roadrunner football team on to their victory.

Four Glades Correctional Institution employees recently received awards for completing the first half of a 320 hour training program in correctional administration, correctional operations and human relations at Raiford, Fla. Graduating from the 160-hour first part of the program, which is a residency program earning nine semester hours credit from Lake City Community College, were Nathaniel Pack, Nelson K. Rick, Alice M. # Glades Day Gators deflate Florida Air

The Glades Day School Gators defeated Melbourne Florida Air Academy 18-7, Saturday.

During the first series of play, neither team could generate much of an offensive attack. The Gators took advantage of a Carlos Latour interception midway through the first quarter. Latour's interception occurred on the Falcon 45 and was returned to

It took the offensive unit four plays to score. Bill Thompson went over from the one. The Gators attempted a two-point conversion, but halfback Mitch Crissman was dropped short of the goal line. The first quarter ended with the Gators leading 6-0.

The second quarter continued to be a defensive struggle with the Gators losing many opportunities by losing the ball

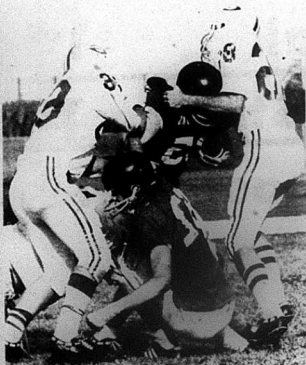

Gator defense, led by Timmy Prescott, Charles Mathews and Mike Penoul, were instrumental in stopping the Florida Air running attack.

Late in the second quarter the Gators drove from their own 35 yard line and scored on a 25 yard pass from Jorge Echave to Danny Duda. The two-point conversion attempt by Thompson was no good. The half ended with the Gators leading 12-0.

Bill Thompson opened the third quarter by scoring a seventy yard touchdown off right tackle. Again the conversion attempt was unsuccessful. Neither team could mount an offensive threat throughout the remaining quarter.

During the final quarter, Florida Air scored its only touchdown on a 50 yard drive. 45 of the yards were in penalties against the Gators. David Bockman scored on a two yard run. The extra point was successful, bringing the score to 18-7.

Coach Magnuson gave praise to Bill Thompson who ran for 96 yards and the entire defensive unit who held Florida Air to 78 yards in total offense.

Crusaders win first of season

The Christian Day School Crusaders won their first game of the season Friday by trimming Miami Rico, 14-8. Rico scored first with the aid of a blocked punt and two penalties. They ran it in from the two yard line and passed for a two-point conversion.

The Crusaders came right back and scored on a halfback pass from Eddie Cunningham to Carlos Torres. The try for a two-point conversion fell inches short and the half ended with the Crusaders trailing 8-6.

Christian Day School came out in the second half and marched quickly to the go-ahead touchdown on a seven-yard run by Eddie Cunningham.

Terry Steele scored the conversion points on a run to wind up the scoring-14-8.

A 21-0 shutout over the Martin County Tigers Friday before a large homecoming crowd set the stage as the Glades Central Raiders meet Pahokee with several reasons for wanting a win.

A victory in the yearly Glades bloodletting will bring the Bill Young Trophy back to Belle Glade, satisfy a thirst for revenge and send the Raiders into their fourth state playoffs in the school's five year history. It will also give the Raiders their third regular season of football without a defeat in the same five-year span.

The Blue Devils ruined the Glades Central homecoming last year when a Pahokee player picked up a blocked punt late in the fourth quarter and carried it 41 yards for the winning touchdown.

The Blue Devils, like the Raiders, will be coming off a homecoming win against Miami Curley, 13-7, but they will be carrying a 6-3 season record into the game compared with an 8-0-1 record compiled by the Raiders.

The Raiders exploded for two touchdowns early in the third quarter to break open a scoreless first half to post their latest win against the Martin County eleven.

The win clinched at least a tie for the District AAAA Championship, but a win over Pahokee would definitely put the Raiders into the playoffs while eliminating the Atlantic Eagles, who marred chances for a perfect season by tying the Raiders 6-6 in the first game this year.

Once again it was the running of the "Mighty Flea", Anthony Burger, and the always tough Raider defense who insured the sixth shutout of the season for the Belle Glade team.

Neither team could move the ball much in the first two quarters of play. The Raiders lost two drives when they fumbled twice inside the Tiger 30 yard line.

Martin County's Eddie Jones led both teams with 43 yard in the first half but he was held to only 21 yards in the second half and the alert Raider defense didn't allow Martin County a single pass completion.

The Raiders took the second half kickoff and marched 64 yards in 12 plays as the Raider offensive line started to open big holes in the Tiger defensive line.

Martin County's Ed Jones drew Brown led Raider's ground game and Brown went over right tackle for a one-yard touchdown to cap the drive to paydirt. David Kinlaw kicked the first of three touchdowns and the Raiders had the lead for the first time, 7-0.

After the Raider defense held the Tigers for downs on the Martin County 10 yard line Berger took a punt on the Tiger 45 yard line and raced 45 yards behind beautiful blocking into the end zone for the second score of the game.

Kinlaw converted and the Raiders increased their lead to 14-0.

Early in the fourth quarter, the Raiders struck again as junior linebacker Bruce Rimes intercepted a Martin County pass at the Raider 42 yard line and returned it to the Tiger 38 yard line.

The Raiders moved the ball down to the Tiger four yard line on a 24-yard screen pass from Johnny Rutledge to Hudall Collie. Four plays later, Burger bucked over right tackle for the score. Kinlaw's kick was perfect and the Raiders led, 21-0.

Anthony "The Flea" Burger won the Offensive Player of the Week by leading the team in rushing with 77 yards in 14 carries as he scored two touchdowns.

He was followed by Norman Smith, who had 71 yards in five carries and a pass completion for 22 yards. Alexander Brown amassed 41 yards in nine carries plus one touchdown.

The Raider offensive line had an outstanding second half as they rushed for 163 yards. Leading the charge were Dicky Sweet, Clark Innes, Charles Ford, Clark Lloyd, Davey Locke, Lester Finney and Hudall Collie.

David Jones was the Defensive Player of the Week as he led the team in tackles with 15. Calvin Willis with 11 tackles and David Kinlaw with nine. Bruce Rimes and Charles Small had six tackles each while Hudall Collie, Cornelius Brown and Michael Washington had four each.

The Raider secondary was flawless as they didn't give up a single pass completion. Burger, Bernard Hammond, Jazell Simeton, Willie Wright, T. J. Salter and Hector Velez were perfect.

The Sticker of the Week Award went to Bruce Rimes for his two blinding tackles of Eddie Jones for losses. It was another outstanding performance for the Raider defense who will be surely tested against the air-minded Pahokee Blue Devils this Friday night.

"I would like to see the Congress voting itself a raise in the middle of all the economic problems the country has today," he said.

"I will refuse the raise," Tanner agreed. "We can take that $125 we'll save, put another $125 with it and pay the retainer fee for Group Seven." Commissioner Neal Mayo and Mayor Vernice Cox agreed.

munipalities in the county with a police force of ten men or less.

The county sheriff argued his office could do the job better and cheaper than the individual departments.

"I don't feel the Sheriff's Office," Dreeson said Tuesday, "can give the same adequate service our own local department can give the citizens of South Bay."

"It's been tried," he said, "and they couldn't do it then. I don't believe they could do it now, even if they had extra cars."

He said the maximum response time for the local department has been cut to one and a half minutes and the department has also begun its own felony investigations.

"One thing I found out is that they've never failed to get a grant they've gone after," he said. "My feeling is that if I were to have to go to Atlanta, Jacksonville and Tallahassee to do the work, it would cost a lot more than the $225 a month they charge."

Since Group Seven operates on a performance contract, Carnel said the corporation is pretty sure it can get funds for the city already and wouldn't waste it's time on long shots with little chance of success.

In other business, the commission unanimously decided to forego a $25 increase in their salaries per month which had been built into the city budget for this year.

"I'm against a raise," Commissioner O'Neal Walker said. "Not that I don't need the money. I could probably use it better than anyone here but with all the projects we have going, I can't in good conscience vote to accept a raise."

"It would be too much like Congress voting itself a raise in the middle of all the economic problems the country has today," he said.

"I will refuse the raise," Tanner agreed. "We can take that $125 we'll save, put another $125 with it and pay the retainer fee for Group Seven." Commissioner Neal Mayo and Mayor Vernice Cox agreed.

The commission also authorized City Manager Dreeson to go ahead with plans to set up an emergency water supply agreement with South Shore Water Association.

OLD AND YOUNG PEDESTRIAN VICTIMS

Last year almost 10,000 pedestrians were killed and some 150,000 injured. Of this tragic toll, more than half of the people killed were 4 years of age and under or 65 and over. In fact, the figure is precisely 62 per cent of those injured were among the youngest and oldest members of our population.

The reasons for this are not too difficult to analyze but solutions are hard to come by. Here are a few guidelines which may help avoid potential death for our old and young pedestrians.

Avoid standing or walking on roads at night. If you must walk the road at night, walk on the left side facing the oncoming traffic and wear white - or better yet, reflective material, to make yourself highly visible to drivers.

If you're using an umbrella, hold it high enough so it doesn't block your vision. Cross only at intersections (40 per cent of pedestrian deaths are jaywalkers).

Hamilton speaks

by JEROME TURK & EDW. WALSH

New York, Nov. 22, 1774—Can a 19-year-old college boy successfully defend the recent Congress against the cringing attacks of loyalist thinkers?

A young prodigy named Alexander Hamilton is attempting it, just as boldly as he leaped from obscurity among New York's patriots last summer. He gave a rousing speech which has earned him the friendship of the brawling Sons of Liberty.

Today the slender immigrant from the West Indies is secluded in his dormitory room at King's College. He's at work on an essay entitled A Full Vindication of the Members of Congress.

It's a sound and spirited repudiation of the powerful loyalist pamphlet, Free Thoughts, ridiculing Congress and its acts. The latter is suspected to have come from the quill of the clever and erudite Rev. Samuel Seabury. Seabury is in league with the president of Hamilton's own college, Dr. Myles Cooper, and two other Anglican clergymen.

We chanced to meet Alexander Hamilton yesterday at a tailor shop on Water Street. He's about five-foot seven, slight of frame. He has an uncommonly handsome face.

Deep-set blue eyes, fair complexion and firm chin are crowned by brown hair with a hint of red in it. He carries himself remarkably erect, which adds dignity to the young man's presence.

In conversation, Hamilton's face lights with animation and zest. Even though we saw him only momentarily before he departed, we got the impression of a charming fellow who speaks rapidly and well.

"There's a smart lad, he is. He'll give the Reverend his comeuppance," said Hercules Mulligan, the tailor, a great broth of a man who was born in Coleraine, Ireland. Now 34, a bachelor and a staunch Son of Liberty, Mulligan has acted as Hamilton's patron since Alexander arrived here two years ago.

Other than the fact that friends in the West Indies had chipped in to send the boy to the colonies for an education, Mulligan revealed no more of Hamilton's obscure origins. But he was effusive in his praise.

"Alexander has brilliance. He finished his college preparatory work in one year over in New Jersey at Elizabethtown. Then I myself took him to Dr. Witherspoon in the college at Prince Town. He asked to take classes at his own pace. He could have been out of college in a year, too. Dr. Witherspoon tested him and agreed. But later he said college policy was against it, so Alexander came to King's in New York."

All this conversation was taking place as Mulligan measured me for a new waistcoat, mine having been badly stained when Capt. Isaac Sears hurled a "bellows-top flip" at me during a slight misunderstanding.

Mulligan roared with laughter when Edward Walsh told him of the incident. "That Isaac—a terrible tempered man. But never a truer Son of Liberty. So's Alex McDougall."

Mulligan told us how the Sons have been trying for years to keep a "liberty pole" up in the Fields, an open area north of Broadway. Redcoats of the 16th Regiment of Foot have kept cutting it down.

"We've had some mighty brawls with those soldier boys," Mulligan said, proudly pointing out that the latest pole is still up in the Fields.

"That's the spot where the Hamilton lad made his mark last July 6," the tailor revealed. Nearly a thousand people, warmed up by Alexander McDougall, crowded around to hear patriot leaders air the grievances of the colonies.

Suddenly a slight, fair-skinned boy leaped to the platform and began to speak: "You deserve a voice, you have a right to a voice. You cannot be taxed without representation." Alexander Hamilton thrilled his listeners with stirring words and sound logic.

That night, anyone in New York who hadn't heard him, heard about him.

Kidnapped!

Some of the Nu Kappa members and guests were kidnapped for breakfast Saturday morning when they answered knocks on the door and were carried off in their curlers, robes and slippers to a breakfast held in the home of Mrs. Tom Humfeld.

A fall theme was carried out using fall colored place mats and matching plates, cups and tablecloths. Two arrangements in fall colors were put in the center of both tables.

Pancakes and bacon were served along with coffee and orange juice to the kidnappers.

Kidnapped were Mrs. Paul Prescott, Mrs. Gary Crews, Mrs. Kirby Norman, Mrs. Wynn Jones and Wynette, Mrs. Bobby Davis, Mrs. Bob Carter.

Mrs. Donnie Lindsey, Mrs. Richard Browning and Jennifer, Mrs. Glen Angel, Mrs. Willie Lee and Dina, Mrs. Riley Foster and Mindy, Mrs. Steve Doolin, and Mrs. Mike Finnern.

What other business today can say "we are over 15,000 times bigger than when we first started 41 years ago." There aren't that many around, that's for sure. But Everglades Federal Savings and Loan is. We started back in 1933 with an initial capital investment of $2,509. When we finished counting our total assets this past October we stood at $37,822,164.23—a growth of almost four per cent over 1973. C.E. Riedel spearheaded the drive of local businessmen to start the first savings and loan in the county, the eighth in the state and only the 47th in the nation. It was a humble beginning with the "office" being a desk in the corner of Hugh J. Bratley's office on Ave. A. Bratley was the secretary, a director, the loan officer, the teller, the bookkeeper, the stenographer—and when the floor got dirty he swept that as well. Riedel was elected as the first President of the association—and he served in that capacity and as a director until retiring in 1955. Other original member of the first board of directors were Kenneth Lutz, W.S. Stang, C.M. Hermanson and A.E. Kirchman. While other savings and loan associations have been suffering declines over the past year—Everglades Federal continues to grow. Total assets in 1973 were $36,522,033.75. At the end of our fiscal year in October of 1974 total assets stood at $37,822,164.23. Savings in 1973 stood at $30,779,710.39. By the end of 1974 they had jumped to $32,178,889.03. On the loan side of the ledger numbers were increasing as well. In 1973 Everglades Federal had a loan balance of $30,860,839.45. When 1974 drew to a close the loan balance had increased $32,573,923.95. So, our growth continues. Our future is bright. And Saturday, November 23 is another milestone in this growth. For on that day at 2 p.m. the Grand Lodge of Florida Masons will officially lay the cornerstone for our new building at 125 N. Main St. We welcome and invite all of our many friends in the Glades who have helped us grow and who will help us grow even more in the years to come.

C. E. Riedel

The Belle Glade Herald, November 21, 1974, 1B

Time for Raiders to come home

It was a day for homecoming, Raider style, and all the festivities that go with the traditional returning of old alumni. It was a day for Belle Glade Police Chief Charles Goodlett to wave in a jovial mood as he led the grand parade; a time for cheerleaders, young and younger, to enjoy a half-time break; a time for boys on bicycles to pace the floats and most of all a time for Miss Glades

Central to root for the Raiders. It was also a time for appreciation as a plaque was presented to Mr. and Mrs. William Motes, "the greatest people in Belle Glade," for what they've done for the Raider band and for Chief Goodlett and Deputy Police Chief Bill Mathis to receive plaques for their support during games. But most of all, it was Raider time.

Scouts hon or Bair

The Glades District Award of Merit, the highest award to be given on the district level to Boy Scout leaders, was awarded last Thursday to Glenn Bair, owner of Bair Communications.

Bair received the award from Gulf Stream Council Executive John M. Ventrone in the final part of the annual Glades District Awards Dinner at Community United Methodist Church's Jameson Hall.

A special award was also presented to Arthur King of Clewiston, "a man who's been Scoutmaster to most of the adult male population of the town and has continued to inspire, motivate and challenge men to serve scouting and gives the same to boys through his leadership, character and devotion to scouting."

Bair is incoming chairman of cub-scouting on the district committee, has been an assistant scoutmaster, scoutmaster, neighborhood commissioner, cubmaster, pack and troop committee chairman, vice-chairman of the district, school night coordinator and district training chairman of Pack 623 in Pahokee, sponsored by the First United Methodist Church there.

He has been a coach for Farm League baseball and was presented in 1969 with the Pop Reynolds Youth Service Award.

Ventrone said King has over 50 years of service to scouting, has been honored by National Council, Boy Scouts of America with the Silver Beaver Award, the highest possible award to scout leaders.

He was chosen this year as Man of the Year by the Clewiston Jaycees and recently organized a new Cub Scout pack and a Scout Troop to serve Clewiston, serving as assistant scoutmaster with a particular desire to see Spanish-speaking boys enter the ranks of scouting.

He served the district this year as cub scout commissioner. The two awards came at the end of a number of recognitions and immediately followed the swearing in of the new district committee by council commissioner Robert Fincannon. Fincannon swore in J. Frank Ingram to replace Walter Vaughn as the district chairman. Bair as cub-scouting chairman, Ed McGee as finance chairman, Charles Todd as Manpower chairman and Roy Wenzel as Relationships Chairman. In recognition of financial backing, Dr. Joseph Orsengo, the outgoing chairman, recognized W.C. Taylor, James Beardsley and Robert Kelly as members of the Century Club; Rafael Panjul of Osceola Farms, Robert Pease for Quaker Oats and Tom Swager for Florida Sugar Refinery for leadership.

Recognized as a Patron was Frank Teets of South Bay Growers. Charles Schiele accepted a Guardian award for the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, Inc. and Harry Vaughn Jr. accepted a Sponsoring award for the United States Sugar Corp.

Closter Farms, Perkins Sod Farms and Royals, Inc. were unable to be present to accept their Leadership awards. Unable to pick up their Century membership plaques were Big B Ranch, Belle Glade Civitan Club, Ray Roth Farms, Gressinger and Sons, Lamar Hilyear and Son, S.N. King and Son, Pioneer Growers Cooperative, Weekley and Mace Sod Farms and Dr. H.L. Hinton.

Special citations were presented to Everglades Presbyterian Church, St. John's Episcopal Church and Rosenwald Elementary School for sponsoring scouts.

Receiving certificates of appreciation were William J. Miller, Vera Whitfield, Billy Abernathy, J. W. Beardsley, Mrs. Emily Drake and Curtis A. Thompson Jr.

A special certificate of appreciation was presented posthumously to Willie H. Beamon for diligent and devoted service to Scouting and youth.

"Mr. Beamon was killed recently in an auto accident," Fincannon said. "He was for two years the devoted Scoutmaster of Troop 667 at Okeechobee Center. This certificate will be presented to his mother as an appropriate occasion."

CPR study scheduled

The Heart Association of Palm Beach County challenges everyone in the Glades area to learn how to save a life in November.

Cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) means mouth-to-mouth breathing and closed chest massage, and can be learned in six hours.

A free six-hour course will be held at Glades Central High School on November 25 and 26 from 6:30-9:30 p.m. in the Annex Cafeteria. To register, call Mr. Loharve Young at the School Annex, 996-8216.

For Christmas parade

Floats being sought

Entries are still being accepted for the Third Annual Belle Glade Christmas Parade on Dec. 7 according to ad hoc committee chairman Mrs. Lynette Thompson but more are needed to carry the parade.

Mrs. Thompson said the committee is especially looking for bands, floats, rolling entries and marching units. One particular need she cited was convertibles to carry people in the parade.

"The only band Mrs. Thompson said she has not heard so far is the Christian Day School Band, although some of the other nine bands contacted may participate."

"We've received firm 'no' answers from Glades Central, Clewiston and LaBelle High Schools," she said.

"Other music will be provided, however, by the Glades Correctional Institution Choral Group, led by the Rev. John Davenport."

"Other entries include floats from Slim's Fish Camp, Royals and the Rainbow Girls, boats from the Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla 55 here, a motorcycle troop made up of local riders, an Army Color Band and a mobile missile display provided by local recruiting Sergeant Billy Wallace.

She said members of the

McTaggart's unit cited

Master Sergeant Robert E. McTaggart, son of Mrs. Lorraine Brown of Belle Glade, Fla., is a member of a unit that recently received the U.S. Air Force Outstanding Unit Award.

Sgt. McTaggart is a radio relay supervisor at Kadena AB, Okinawa, with the 1962nd Communications Group that was cited for meritorious service from Oct. 1, 1972 through Dec. 31, 1973.

The sergeant is a 1954 graduate of Belle Glade High School.

Community United Methodist Youth will march in the parade and Chamber of Commerce President Robert White has agreed to be the parade marshal. A member of the chamber is in charge of selecting float judges.

At the meantime, prize chairman Mrs. Judy Schiele said Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida has agreed to donate the $150 for first prize. Royals will donate $100 for the second place winner and the third place prize of $200 has been donated by Quaker Oats.

"Mrs. Thompson carried her cause to Belle Glade businessmen this week with a letter. Besides asking businesses to enter floats, she is asking others to sponsor floats at the rate of $35 per float."

"Your donation of $35," she said, "will enable the club, organization or school to decorate a float and be eligible for the three monetary prizes. The winning businesses will be awarded trophies."

"Last year," Mrs. Thompson said, "Averill's sponsored the St. Peter's Lutheran School taking first place prize of $150. Badcocks sponsored the Christian Day School's float, which won second place prize of $75." Persons or groups wishing to enter units can contact Mrs. Thompson at 996-8206 or call the Chamber of Commerce at 996-2745 or 996-2292.

Regatta a success

The Community Thanksgiving Service sponsored by the Belle Glade Ministerial Association will be held at the Mt. Zion AME church, 938 SW Avenue C, at 9 a.m. Thanksgiving day, Nov. 28.

The Rev. Charles Robinson, host pastor, and other members of the Ministerial Association will participate in the service. The Reverend Randall Parsons, Community United Methodist Church, will preach the Thanksgiving sermon.

Choirs from the First Baptist Church and the Mt. Zion AME Church will provide special music.

The community is invited to attend.

Thank you

We would like to express our deepest appreciation for the kindness and expression of sympathy from our many friends on the death of our mother and wife, Mrs. Alice D. Legister.

Emblem Of Love

A symbol of gentleness and innocence the lamb is non aggressive, helpless against attack, for it is not fleet of foot, nor can it protect itself. It does not destroy its own kind or any other animal for food. Thus we find the Bible referring to the time when the lion, a ferocious beast, shall lie down with the lamb and when men shall no longer study war—in other words, when greed and the strife that often accompanies greed shall have disappeared from the earth.

The main objective of the Church is to bring about a situation where the motivating power on this earth is love, replacing greed, selfishness and strife. It cannot be denied but that the churches have long striven and can still make greater strides toward that goal. Their need is for more and more members dedicated to its program. When once dedicated to this cause the member will discover through the practice of what his church teaches that love is the most essential thing in life, that its power can and will conquer all negative forces.

Some church needs your services!

"Gifts of the Spirit"

The Parson Pontificates

It is too bad that people can't enjoy a local school football game without having their ears battered constantly with vicious and vituperative epithets being yelled at members of the visiting team. And for what reason are these particular members of the visiting team vilified? They are black. Now, they had no more choice concerning their racial heritage than any of the rest of us. Even their ancestors did not come to this country by choice; they were brought against their will. Some among us would deny them every privilege, not even trusting them as humans. God made of one blood all nations of man for to dwell on all the face of the earth (Acts 17:26). He must weep when he hears those words of abuse. There are His people too; He loves them. He even loves the man who was yelling all those obscenities. (See Ephesians 4:31-32).

Methodist Church history

This is the final of a series of three articles about United Methodism and its beliefs by Bishop Joel D. McDavid.

We believe in man. Nothing is easier than to lose faith in people. But we United Methodists join all Christians in holding fast to the God-given goodness in every person. We know that people are not perfect. All of us are sinners. But God created us in His image and in spite of our sins, and treats us as a good father would treat his children.

Every person is of divine worth in God's sight. There are no distinctions between races, nationalities, or economic status. For all of us Christ died. Not one of us escapes God's love and care.

FAMILIES STAY TOGETHER

Who Pray Together—You Need His Church

Church history

We believe in the Cross. Man cannot answer his own deepest question. Man is both important enough and needy enough for Christ to die for him. That cross symbolizes God's love for all people, a love that carries it to fullest expression in death. "Greater love hath no man than this, that he lays down his life for a friend." The Cross really means, "God was in Christ reconciling the world unto himself." II Corinthians 5:19. God has taken the initiative to save us. God suffered to give us abundant life.

We believe in the forgiveness of sins. We state this in our creeds: "I wish all of us believed it in our hearts. No one is beyond the pale, no sin is so hideous that God cannot forgive it. Justification by faith, which is the theme of the Protestant Reformation and the Wesleyan revival, means that any person can sing in his heart every day because he has been forgiven. God saves us not because of our good works, but because of his love for us. The good works follow, but are not the cause of salvation.

We believe in discipline living. The word "Methodist" means "a methodical way to live the good life." We develop holy habits. One of the background documents of our church is the General Rules. In summary they say: Do no harm, do all the good you can, and attend upon the ordinances of God. This is the basis of a discipline life. Life is at its best not when it is allowed to run like wild horses but when it is harnessed to carry loads that belong to us.

We believe in the centrality of love. Christian love is the greatest force in the world. It binds us to God and to our fellow man. It is the law of life because it fulfills every law. Jesus emphasized it by word and example. Paul said, "All other plans, powers and skills are nothing unless we have love." Now this makes the Christian life demanding, challenging and rewarding. "It never fails." It is the answer to all our relationship problems that we may have with our fellow man.

We believe in Conversion, that life can be changed. We are not locked in. All of us can experience spiritual rebirth.

We believe in Assurance. The sheep know their shepherd. The Holy Spirit assures us that we belong to Him. All of us have this certainty registered deep within our souls.

We believe in the Church. It is the body of Christ. There is no Christianity, historically, without the church. A man said to me, "My church is nature. I love it and live out of doors as much as possible. This is God's world so this is 'my church.'" I asked about his mission enterprise, children's homes, and great concerns for others. There are no substitutes for the church. It is needed to keep the Gospel alive, as a challenge for our united ministries, and to unite us in the search for the guidance of God. No other agency in society is strictly in the business of making God real to us than the church.

We believe in the Kingdom of God. The Kingdom of God within our souls must find expression in the good life for others. We believe that Christ wants the world to be Christian, else he would not have prayed, "Thy Kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven." I can't do much about the affairs of Heaven, but I can lend a hand in making this a better world. Everything, therefore, that I touch should be influenced by my commitment to the Kingdom of God.

We believe in life everlasting. One will not find fullness in this life unless he knows it is moving toward something finer and better hereafter. Ours is a religion of the empty tomb. We affirm the resurrection of Jesus and life everlasting.

Beliefs, however, can be cold and impersonal. They can be lodged in a book somewhere and never find any kinship to life. If, however, our faith is to be active and our lives are involved we have, to learn to think theologically. All things are not clearcut. All things are not between the clearly right and the clearly wrong. All choices are not easy. So the United Methodist Church has four guides for theological thinking, for evaluating beliefs. They are: the Bible, tradition, experience, reason. The Bible is the written authority. Our question is, what is the total impact of the Scriptures? We are a part of history so the experiences of the ages are a helpful guide. Milton said the secret of success in life is the power to build upon the past. Under the in-dwelling of the Holy Spirit what do we feel within? What is this innerguide? Our own experience. And finally, what makes sense, what seems to be reasonable?

When our beliefs go awry or on tangents it is because we have depended upon one or two of these but have not checked belief against all four. With this as our guide we should come out not only with the right answers, but answers that will bring richness and meaning to life.

One final word: We believe in the priesthood of believers. We are in this on the same team, laity and clergy. Clergy is not set apart with special authority nor is the laity, but we join hands as witnesses to Christ through his church. We are all ministers and are in the ministry. Don't get careless about believing. For sloppy thinking results in slothful living. What we believe really determines who we are and what we do.

Lo Que Dios Ha Dado

Jamas el hombre relativista podria Todos los bienes que su Dios le dio. Porque su mente no comprendiera Su magnitud, y otros ignore Le dio el preciado don de la existencia. Le dio la tierra y de ella el paz; Para explotarla le dejo la ciencia. Grandes riquezas en su seno estan.

Le dio el hogar, la patria, la familia. Sagrados dones de primer valor. Junto a los cuales lucha y reconcilia Toda su vida, porque son su amor.

Le dio la luz, el dia. Fuerza bella Que por los campos El hace crecer; El cielo azul, la noche, las estrellas. Donde sus huellas pueda siempre ver.

Le dio los mares y doquiera un rio Para calmar su sed y navegar. Tambien la fresca lluvia y el rocío. Que sus plantas vienen a regar.

La rubia espiga al mar en las trigales. La fresca brisa el aire que respira;

La dulce miel le dio de los panales Y la cancion que en su laud suspira.

Le dio en la entrana rica de la tierra Minas de plata, de oro, de diamantes. Por los que el hombre hoy se hace la guerra. Como si fueran seres ignorantes.

Terrena fauna le entrego en su mano. Peces del mar y todo bajo el cielo. Cetro de rey terreno soberano Sobre todo lo que cubre el suelo.

Mas, nunca el hombre se sintio dichoso. Y contra el cielo vive en rebelion. Sin comprender que mal tan oprobioso Le ganara fatal condenacion.

Mas, Dios al verlo asi tan descarrado. Su Hijo envia al hombre a redimir: Amando tanto al mundo, que lo ha dado. Pero con odio cruel lo hacen morir.

Que mas podria darle Dios al hombre Que no haya dado ya su mano a el? Solo esperando que su grande nombre El reconozca y le adore fiel.

A small deposit lays away that special gift.

Freedom of Choice

What is in store for this bright-eyed young man? Will he be a leader among men, a scientist, perhaps a doctor? It is difficult to guess what his future dreams will be. The important thing is that he be free to follow them. After all, isn't that what it's all about?

His freedom to choose depends on what you and I decide today. Will we exercise our freedom of choice to protect his rights or will we turn our backs and let them slip away? The decision is ours, the future is his. Let's make our choice one he will be proud of. SUPPORT AMERICA!

LIBERTY AND SUPPORT
AMERICA

Our principles heritage embodied in the flag of the United States, is an ever living, all it was when written. It stands for all the world to see and for all Americans to cherish. And in the tradition of Washington, Jefferson, Madison, and Lincoln, we should not disagree as to the goal - that of preserving the greatest democratic society the world has ever known.

DEAR FRIENDS:

"ARE YOU MEETING YOUR FAMILY OBLIGATIONS?"
if not, here are just six reasons why you should:

- 1 - FINAL EXPENSE
when death comes, WHO will pay the burial expenses, WHO will pay the hospital and Doctor bills should you be confined for a prolonged time before death?
- 2 - FAMILY INCOME
when death comes, your family loses a loved one, but most important, they also lose their main source of income.
- 3 - EDUCATION
when death comes, WHO will see that the children receive a proper education?
- 4 - EMERGENCY FUND
when death comes, WHO will decide where that money will come from in case there is an emergency cash need?
- 5 - MORTGAGE
when death comes, WHO will decide where the family will live if a large debt is left owing on the house?
- 6 - RETIREMENT and last, but not least, the tragedy of "living too long" without having put aside money for the future, leaves just a poor, lonely, forgotten old man.

My friends, give a concerning thought and decide "Who" you want to fulfill these obligations.....will it be a charity organization, relatives, friends or perhaps an insurance policy which "YOU" bought because you loved and cared for your family!

Sincerely,

Joyce M. Lynn, Agent
